Macro Outlook

- > US data flow does not seem to have a major impact on rate lift-off expectations by FED. Door still open for rate hikes to commence during mid-year but debate on timing still continues.
- > US Mar-15 job report demonstrates economy is struggling in creating new jobs. These challenges may continue within broader economy if export sector is dampened further by a stronger dollar.
- > US core CPI, excluding food and energy prices, rising 1.8% YoY in Mar-15.
- > UST 10Y moved in between 1.7% and 2.3% levels during Q115, hovering around 1.9% as of mid Apr-15.
- > ECB QE program commenced in Mar-15, helped EU bond yields to contract to record lows and EU stocks to trade at record highs.
- > Consumer prices in Eurozone fell 0.1% YoY in Mar-15, the fourth consecutive monthly decline and still far from ECB's target of 2.0%. Energy prices falling 5.8% YoY to be blamed for this decline.
- > EUR has tested its lowest level against USD, below 1.05, with divergence in monetary policy of both the ECB and FED as the main factor.
- > Brent remained below USD 60 in Q115 but increased in Apr-15 to USD 65.
- > Turkish economy grew 2.9% upon fixed prices in 2014 in line with the revised market expectations. Net export contribution stood at 1.9%.
- > Turkish benchmark bond yield touched 6.5% level and ended at 8.5% in Q115, increased to 10.0% in Apr-15.
- > CBRT cut one week repo rate by 75 bps to 7.50% in two tranches; 50 bps in Jan-15, 25 bps in Feb-15. Upper end of the interest rate corridor cut by 50 bps to 10.75%.
- > CBRT raised RRR for non-deposit foreign currency liabilities two times during Q115 in order to lower TRY volatility and discourage short term FC borrowings. ROC for the first 0-30% and 55-60% tranches were adjusted in tandem with RRR changes.
- > MoM CPI rising 1.19% in Mar-15, annual inflation accelerated to 7.6% as food prices could not be abated. Core indexes H and I continued to decrease, standing at 7.8% and 7.1% respectively.
- > Feb-15 trade deficit shrank to USD 4.7 bn from USD 5.2 bn last year, sales of precious metals made a remarkable contribution to limit the YoY drop in exports.
- > 12-month cumulative CAD narrowed to USD 42.8 bn and is expected to resume its improving trend going forward as a result of falling oil prices.
- > Unemployment rate realized at 11.3% as of Jan-15.

Banking Sector Overview

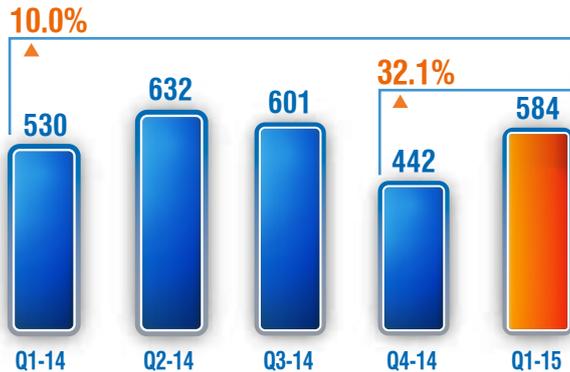

- > Total loan book grew 6.5% QoQ and reached TRY 1,337 bn. TRY loan book showed 4.4% growth whereas FX loan book rose by 11.5% in TRY terms, however shrank by 0.9% in USD terms.
- > Housing loans increased 4.8% and consumer loans 3.1%, enough to compensate contraction in credit card and auto loans.
- > QoQ deposit growth almost caught up with the loan growth due to TRY depreciation, increased 5.8% and reached TRY 1,194 bn. Increase in TRY deposits was almost nil and FX deposits 2.0% in USD terms.
- > No material change in L/D ratio, 117.5% as of Feb-15.
- > Deposit market did not calm down and pricing went up further during Q115, accordingly core spreads were under pressure.
- > NPL ratio remained flat at 2.8%, coverage ratio declined QoQ, 72.3%.
- > Feb-15 cumulative net income depicted a 8.6% increase, however sector RoAE continued to squeeze further to single digit levels, 9.2%.
- > NIM felt significant pressure from increasing deposit cost and declining securities yield, contracted to 3.9% as of Feb-15.
- > OpEx grew 16.0% YoY as of Feb-15, increasing fee rebates to retail customers and TRY depreciation are the two surprising factors.
- > C/I ratio increased to 47.8% as well as OpEx/Total Assets, 2.3% as of Feb-15.
- > Limited decline on CAR and Tier-I for the first two months of 2015, 15.7% and 13.4% respectively, however both are comfortably above regulatory required levels.
- > CBRT repo funding volume at TRY 57 bn and effective funding rate at 8.1%
- > BRSA has allowed the banks to apply 75%-100% risk weighting for the loans granted to the pension customers who receive their monthly state pension from the Social Security Institution (previously 150%-200%).
