Important Explanation

As a result of the capital markets transactions you may not only profit from the transactions but you have also the risk of loss. . Therefore, before deciding to conduct any transaction, you should understand the risks that you may face in the market and decide by considering your financial condition and limits.

To this end, as further specified in Article 25 of the “Communiqué on Principles of Foundation and Operation of Investment Firms”, Serial III, No. 39.1 (“Communiqué”), you have to understand the following provisions contained in this “Investment Services and Activities General Risk Statement Form”.

Warning

Before starting to transact, please check whether the institution you are planning to work with holds a certificate of authorization for capital market transactions you are intending to enter into. You may check and retrieve the list of banks and capital market intermediary institutions holding a certificate of authorization for capital market instruments via websites at the address of www.spk.gov.tr or www.tspakb.org.tr.

Risk Statement

In addition to the points stated in the “Frame Agreement” to be signed with the intermediary institution you are planning to work, it is very important for you to understand and recognize the following points as well.

1. The account you are going to open in the intermediary institution and all of the transactions you are going to effect through that account shall be governed by and subject to all kinds of legislative acts and similar other administrative arrangements issued by the Capital Markets Board, the stock exchanges and the clearing institutions.

2. Capital market transactions are exposed to many risks of varying degrees. As a result of price movements and fluctuations in the market, you may fully lose the money deposited in the investment firm, and your losses may even exceed the amount of your investment depending on the type of transactions effected.

3. In such transactions as margin trading or short selling, due to the leverage effects, you must keep in mind that trading with a low shareholders’ equity may have effects in favor of you or on the contrary in disfavor of you in the market, and accordingly, such leverage effects may either bring you high level of profits or cause substantial losses to you..

4. You must always keep in mind that the information and advice to be given by the investment firm to you with respect to trading in the markets may be incomplete and may require verification and validation by you.

5. You must take into consideration that the technical and basic analyses to be conducted by the authorized officers of the investment firm with respect to trading of capital market instruments may differ from person to person, and the forecasts in such analyses may not definitely realize or come out to be true..

6. For the transactions effected in foreign currency, in addition to the risks enumerated above, it must be known and noted that there is also an exchange rate risk, and that due to exchange rate fluctuations, there may be a loss of value in Turkish Lira, and that the governments may impose restrictions on foreign capital and foreign exchange movements, and may levy additional and/or new taxes, and that the trading transactions may not be executed on time..

7. Before entering into the transactions, you must get confirmation from your investment firm about all of the commissions and other trading fees and charges to be paid by you. If the fees and charges are not expressed in monetary terms, you must request a written statement containing comprehensible examples showing how the said fees and charges will be reflected onto you in monetary terms. This capital market transactions risk statement form intends to generally inform the customer about the available risks, and may thus not cover all of the risks that may emerge from the trading of capital market instruments and the practices relating thereto. For this reason, you must yourself conduct a careful and diligent inquiry before depositing your savings in this type of investments.

I hereby declare, acknowledge and accept that I have read and understood the preceding paragraphs, and without prejudice to my rights of claim and action for my losses and damages that may be caused by faults or negligence of Intermediary Institution/Bank during implementation of these principles, I have signed this “Investment Services and Activities General Risk Statement Form” with my own will and volition, and thereafter, I have signed the Contract and received a copy of this form.
